THE 1962 MIRAGE

LANCASTER HIGH SCHOOL

LANCASTER, OHIO

THE 1962 STORY AT LANCASTER HIGH—

Through pictures and story the 1962 MIRAGE preserves a brief history of many memorable events of the year. May each Chapter bring a new delight to the reader as he relives these precious hours.

Chapter III. Activities
Chapter IV. Sports

WE DEVELOP OUR ABILITIES AND

The Mad Chemist at work!

Mr. Helms: the Very Thoughtful Teacher!!!

"Now, Anne, don't tell another one of those jokes."

OUR UNDERSTANDING OF THE WORLD ABOUT US —

WE GROW THROUGH FRIENDSHIP AND

Mr. Chet Long, the speaker for the Honor Society Assembly, congratulates Lynn Adams.

Some of the Spanish students have a festive celebration.

ENTERTAINMENT —

Gary Linton and Mary Jo Mahon make a charming couple at the Senior Ball.

And here we have the slaves from the 1961 Roman Banquet . . . . . Simply ravishing aren't they?

This is a typical early autumn day at LHS with the students milling about at noon.

"O.K., Karen, that will be enough of that!!"

This picture definitely shows the confusion encountered on "picture day".

WE GO FORTH INSPIRED BY

THE CHALLENGE BEFORE US

CHAPTER I
ADMINISTRATION

Superintendent of Schools
Mr. J. E. "Jack" Brown

Dear Senior:

On each step, one through twelve, the individual pupil has been taught to assume an ever-increasing responsibility for his intellectual growth. The senior of 1962 has been guided through an organized program of basic skills to the understanding and appreciation of his national heritage.

The citizens of this community have made available to you the educational opportunity for you to develop your talents to the maximum. Yours is now a great responsibility both to your school and community. You should re-evaluate this responsibility each time you review the Mirage.

The Mirage has become a significant part in the traditions and customs of the student life of Lancaster High School. It has developed over the years into a documentary of the activities of those individuals who worked together during the senior high school phase of their total educational experience in the Lancaster City Schools.

The Mirage has become the pictorial depository of pleasant memories to be relived in years to come.

The staff and advisor make a great contribution to the student life of this school by this publication. Those who prepared this document are to be complimented and commended by those who will ultimately enjoy the recorded history of three most important years.

Mr. Murray Baughman

Clerk
Mrs. Mary Knoblaugh

Mr. Robert Seeley

Mrs. Irvin Smith

Dr. George LeSar

To compile an accurate word and picture account of the most interesting events of the academic year is the primary purpose of the year book of any school. This year, as in the past, the Mirage has recorded for the students their "way of life" at Lancaster High School.

It may not seem so presently but this, the chronicle of your high school years, will bring you great delight; fond memories and, in a very real sense, a few minutes with old friends as you pick up the 1962 Mirage a decade from now.

Best wishes to you all for happy, successful and worthy lives.

THE CHALLENGE

The American Teacher controls the most important role in the country's survival and continued progress. It is the teacher who day after day seeks to free the thinking of young people so that they may base their choices and actions on intelligent understanding. While directing a student to probe into the unknown future, the teacher also attempts to instill within the youthful mind the principals, ideals, and cultural attainments that are the heritage of every American. The teacher sets an example of strength and moral character in this age of explosive tension. With knowledge that the great people are those who serve, he strives to make teaching a service.

The MIRAGE offers a salute to all teachers who care enough to accept this challenge of service!

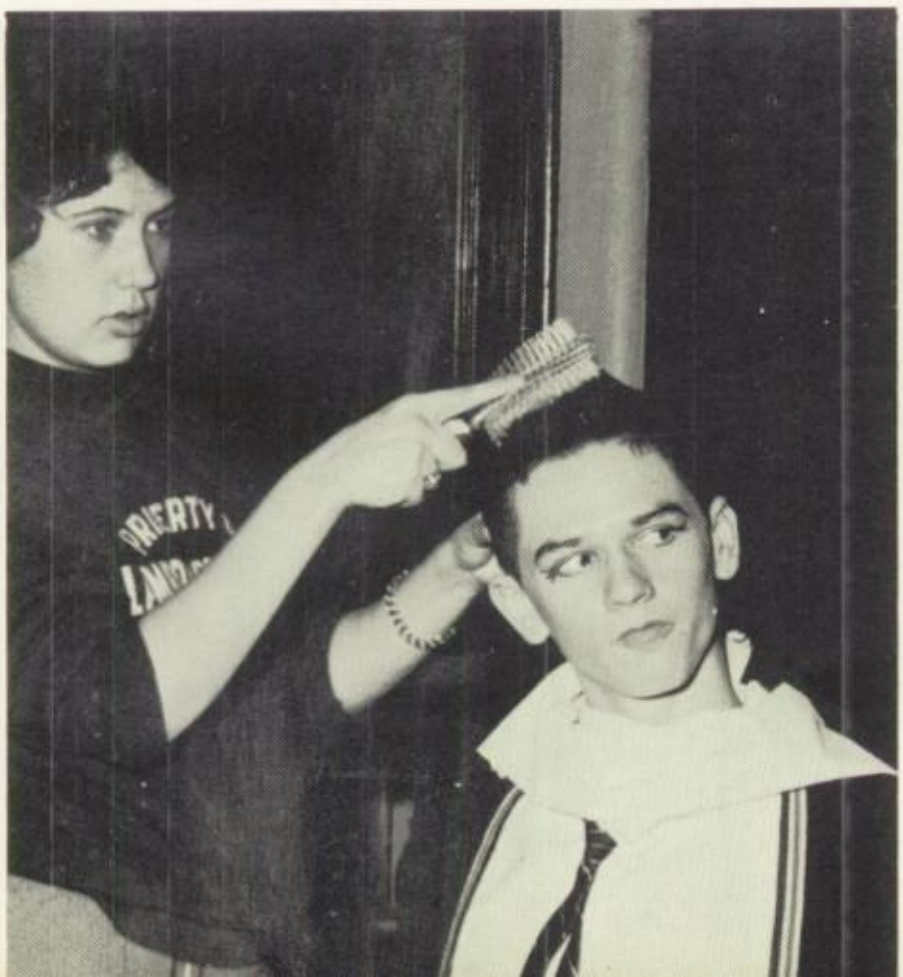
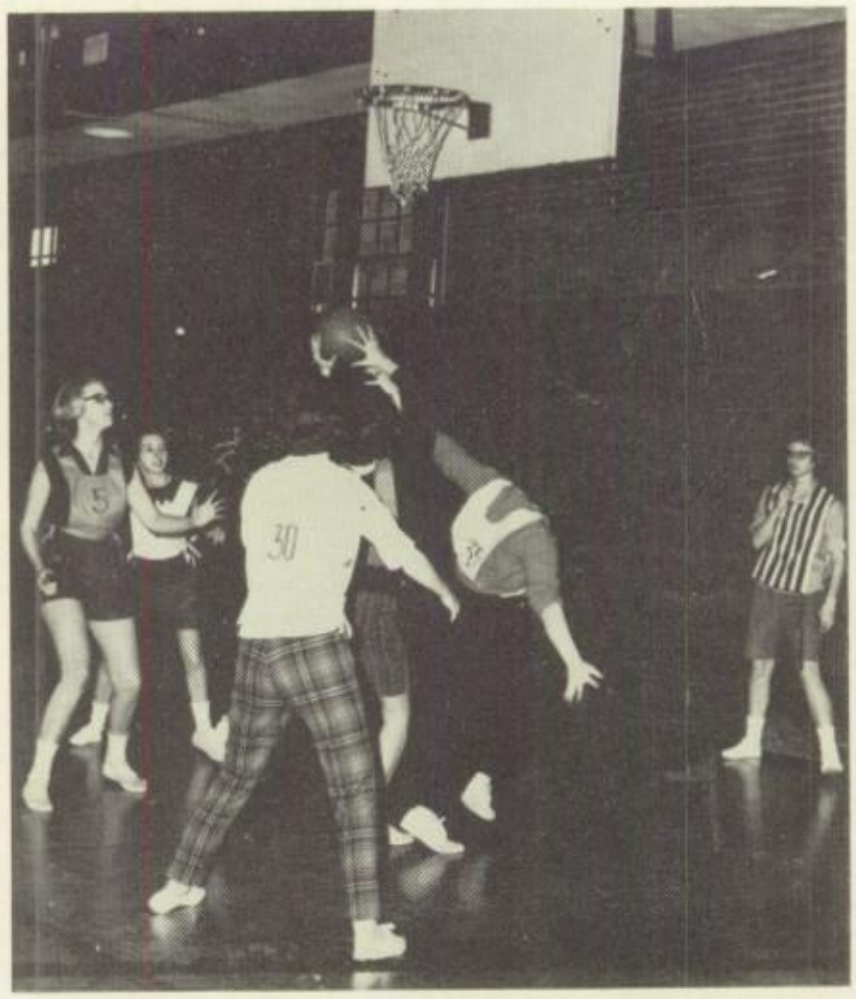
"OXFORD 0-100"

"Henry, when I am talking to you, do not stare at the floor."

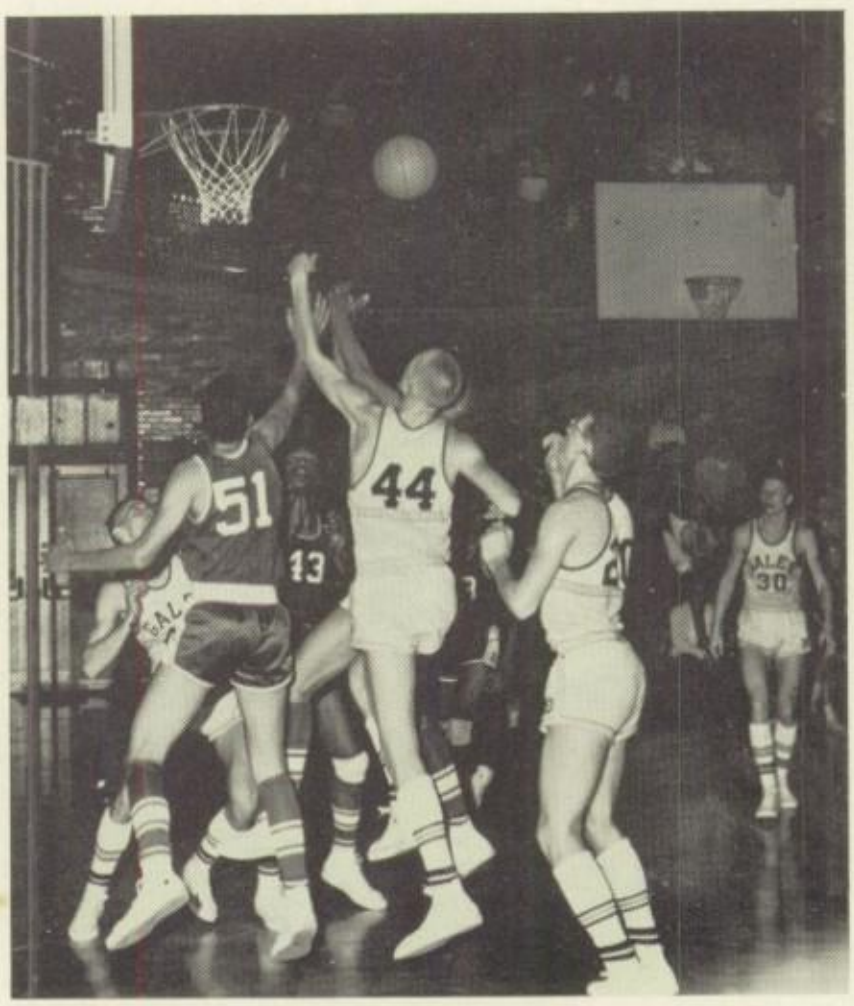


Kathy seems to be taking her work seriously!

Practically the whole student body turns out for the annual rivalry game between LHS and Bishop Fenwick.



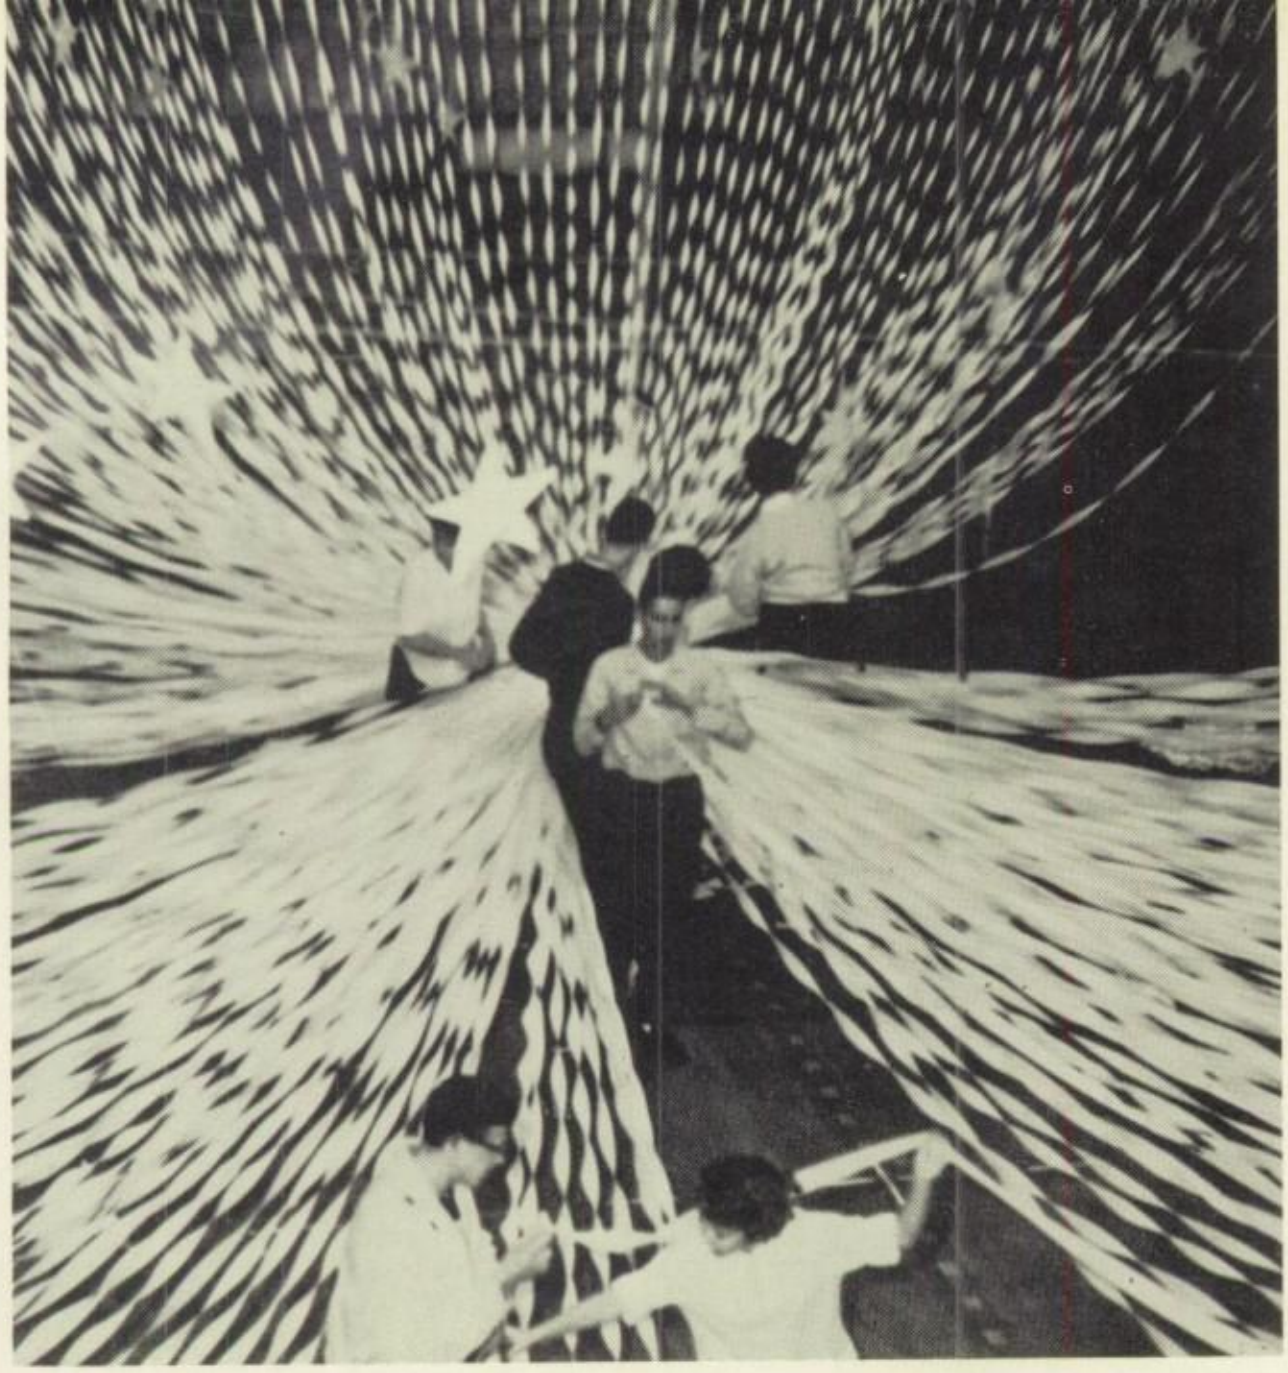
Basketball intramurals provide much enjoyment for the girls on Mondays.



There's always a lot of action at the basketball games as this picture clearly shows.

The Sophomores work very hard to prepare their float for Homecoming.

Joyce, Karen, Sue Ann, and Karen show-off their abilities of making snowballs.



The Seniors have their Big Day decorating the gymnasium for the Senior Ball.

Two Junior couples take time out to have refreshments at the Senior Ball.

Terry tracks Col. Glenn's latest checkpoint.

"Come now, Nancy, we know you aren't studying."

The new Honor Society members and their parents get together after the assembly to talk about the grand event.

In the good ole' summer time!

The pause that refreshes!

Big pillow, huh!!

Someone's trying to get a sneak preview of this edition of the Purple and Gold.

THE 1962 MIRAGE STAFF

Susie is quite busy with the Senior pictures.

Soon the members of the Class of 1962 and their parents will realize the full reward of their hard work these past twelve years. They will feel pride swelling up within them as each graduate reaches, with quivering hands, for his diploma—a symbol of achievement.

Similarly, we of the yearbook staff are beaming with pride as we present the symbol of our achievement—the 1962 MIRAGE.

Our pride of achievement in great because we realize that only through hard work and cooperation can we succeed in our purpose to portray life at Lancaster High School.

It is the sincere wish of the staff that each student accepts the 1962 MIRAGE as his symbol of a memorable high school year.

Ted Harvey
EDITOR

Seated: Susan Kirn, Layout and Mounting, and Miss Duncan, Adviser.

Standing: Dave Contosta, Photographer, Ted Harvey, Editor, Bruce Jones, Sports Editor, Corinne Klinker, Typist, Diane Edwards, Layout and Mounting, Mike Harrison, Sports Editor.

Ted and Dave pretend to be preparing the 1962 MIRAGE "dummy".

The MIRAGE Queen, Vickie Johnson, and her court, Betsy Jones and Susie McClellan, seem to be quite happy, awaiting the beginning of the parade.

The MIRAGE Staff discusses the different possibilities for a cover design.

The loiterers!!!!!!!???????

Mike and Bruce make plans for the sports section of the MIRAGE.
